

Hello my name is Eddie Kim

(.) I like to draw and read books (.) What do you like to do (?)

The first Youtube video of “word” you type will be searched and appear. The videos will be listed from left to right, just like how we read. This idea is to browse what is going on in the world + internet simultaneously(think of it as like a security camera room with many screens showing all different viewpoints).

If we type in today’s Nytimes article, “Indian Jets Strike on Pakistani Side of Kashmir Line,” you will probably see the layout of videos of Indian strike from the keywords like “Indian” “Jets” “Strike” “Pakistani” “Kashmir” Below is the actual search (at 1:50 am, Feb 26th, 2019)
